

making waves

The Newsletter of Almi Tankers

Fleet news

Securing our future officers

Almi Tankers have signed an MOU with the Faculty of Maritime Studies in Rijeka, in order to secure a steady supply of talented young officers. Almi already has an existing co-operation with PMMA in the Philippines, which, along with this new MOU demonstrates our strong commitment to a sustainable recruitment policy. During his visit at the faculty, our Crew Manager had the opportunity to meet with Dean Serdo Kos and his team of professors. Selected candidates were interviewed in order to join our team in the summers of 2014 and 2015. Captain Nikos Kefalas, Crew Manager of Almi Tankers, commented: "Our objective is to support our people in their development from the beginning of their career. We want to show our commitment to Croatian seafarers by teaming up with the Faculty of Maritime Studies in Rijeka to secure a stable supply of well-educated and trained officers and crew members".

